

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides a process for heat treatment of non-woven composite elastic material comprising a non-woven elastic layer; and a non-woven gatherable layer. The process comprises stretching the material, heating the material
 5 and cooling the material. The material has a softer more cloth like feel.